

ADULT GERONTOLOGY NURSE PRACTITIONER ACUTE CARE (GRADUATE CERTIFICATE)

This Graduate Certificate Program allows certified advanced practice registered nurses, who have graduated with a clinical MSN or DNP, to acquire the nationally-specified adult-gerontology acute care content and clinical skills needed to take the national adult-gerontology acute care certification exam and then to function competently within the adult-gerontology acute care scope of practice. It will require satisfactory completion of a minimum of 18 credits of didactic content and clinical hours based on a GAP analysis. Courses focus on integrating advanced health assessment, pathophysiology, and acute clinical care and management. Students will be expected to complete a minimum of 500 hours of acute care clinical hours as required to meet the specialty competencies and the requirements to take the Adult-Gerontology Nurse Practitioner Acute Care national certification exam.
